DEATH PENALTY BASED UPON LAWS ILLINOIS DEMANDED BY THE STATE

Assistant State Attorney Thomas Marshall Ridicules Attempt of Defense To Secure Mitigation of Punishment Through Testimony Alienists in Regard Mental Condition Confessed Murders.

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—Two of the three high crimes for which Illinois provides the death penalty were committed by Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, in a manner justifying nothing less than death on the gallows, Thomas Marshall, assistant state's attorney, told Judge John Caverly today. He urged the extreme penalty in an argument based upon the phraseology of the Illinois laws and the formal charges connected with the kidnapping and murder of Robert Franks, to which crime the defendants have pleaded guilty. The attorney ridiculed the defense's attempt to secure mitigation of punishment by the testimony of mental experts.

DEAD MAN MAY BE WINNER FOR SHERIFF IN CHILDRESS COUNTY

AUSTIN, Aug. 20.—A dead man may defeat his opponent for sheriff of Childress county Saturday. Mel J. Dwight, who was fatally shot Sunday is on the ticket as a candidate for sheriff in the run-off election. It is too late to take his name off the ballot, so the attorney general's department held Tuesday, the opponent would not be elected unless he received more votes than the dead man. If Dwight is elected, the Democratic executive committee, which will nominate a successor to Dr. Walter Spawn, renominated railroad commissioner, and C. V. Terrell, renominated treasurer, will also select a sheriff nominee for Childress county, while it is likely, the attorney general ruled in a telegram to Louis G. Rainey, county chairman, the State committee is not obliged to select the opponent in Saturday's race.

JULIE REINHARDT, STAGE BEAUTY AND STAR OF YESTERDAY, IS ON DEATHBED AMIDST SCENES SQUALOR AND POVERTY

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Julie Reinhardt, whose name once blazed in electric lights on Broadway, who fought shoulder to shoulder with the pioneer suffragists of the United States for the enfranchisement of her sex, is dying, neglected, forgotten, and almost alone. She is disappointed that her life should end thus, but she is not resentful. She does not deal in resentments, she says, and anyway, the younger generation has always rushed on, heedless, impatient toward the lingering great ones of the past. It was so when she was young; it will always be so.

No One Can Help Now. Julie Reinhardt's ailment has gone too far, now that she has been discovered in her poverty. Although every producer, every $1,000-a-week dancing flapper on Broadway should rush to help her with the best physicians in town, Julie can't be saved. She expects to live no more than a week. There is a practical nurse at her side in a small apartment in a not very modern house on West Thirty-Seventh street, hired by a few old friends of her glory years. A year ago the wealthy ones might have been able to help. Now no body can help much.

Julie Reinhardt was with David Warfield in "The Auctioneer" long ago that the programs of the production will soon be fit for framing on green room walls as relics of the past. She was with Jane Cowl when Jane as just out of stock and making her first challenge to fame. In the days when women were marching and orating from street corner soap boxes under kerosene flares, to emphasize their demand for the vote, Julie Reinhardt marched and orated. Injured in El Paso.

During the war she got a pine table, a water pitcher and an American flag and stumped the darkened Broadway of the save-electricity era, boosting the war bonds. A tumble down a trunk shaft in a theater in El Paso several seasons ago started Julie Reinhardt in her decline. She never recovered fully and now she is on her deathbed in a stranded neighborhood that was left on the beach when the Broadway of her youth washed toward the Seewenties.

There will be a political rally at the Edge Schoolhouse, on Friday night at 8:30 o'clock Judge W. C. Davis and Hon. Oak McKenzie will tell of the real issues to be decided in the coming primaries on Saturday, August 23.

Gift Is Appreciated. Handling it over to Mr. Edison for inspection, Mr. Ford remarked he appreciated the gift "more than any since I got Mrs. Ford."

DAVIS WOULD SELECT APPLICANTS FOR THEIR ABILITY AND FITNESS

Governmental Office-Seekers Must Be Able to Deliver the Goods in Order to Get a Position if John W. Davis, Democratic candidate, becomes President, According to a Letter Made Public Today.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—In filling a governmental position, John W. Davis, as President, would "consider only the ability of the applicant and his fitness for the position which he wishes to occupy," the Democratic candidate declared in a letter to Eugene McIntosh, executive leader of the Bronx colored voters of the Democratic Progressive Association, made public today. McIntosh, in a letter, had reminded Davis that he had not included the word "color" in the phrase of his acceptance speech in which he declared that in making appointments in the event of his election, he would "set up no standard of religious faith or racial origin as a qualification for any office."

Several hundred people gathered at the Tabor school house Tuesday night and heard Judge W. C. Davis present the cause of Judge Felix D. Robertson, candidate for governor in the run-off primary, Saturday, August 23rd, and tell of the real issues involved in this campaign. Judge Davis very clearly and convincingly showed that the main issue was prohibition and all other issues injected were as a smoke screen to cover up this real issue. With no criticism for any one, but with a definite decision for himself, he frankly stated his position, that he was for Robertson for governor, and why he was for him, and in conclusion pleaded that each voter make his own decision and go to the polls on Saturday and register himself on one side or the other. "This is no time in Texas for any one to not take a definite stand," said Judge Davis. "I am always willing for my friends to know how I stand on any public question, and my reason for doing so." Among those attending from Bryan were: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Covey, Tax Collector Roy Hudspeth, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Elliott, and Mrs. Lee J. Rountree.

WHISPERED INTO HELL

As we read of that poison pen or secret slander that has driven distress, anguish and tragedy into more than one New York family, there perhaps comes to most of us a pleasing feeling of self-righteousness. By no process of the imagination could we fancy ourselves the poison penner. And yet—are we quite sure that we are spotless? Is there not a chance that our guilt differs from the guilt of the clandestine writer only in degree and nothing in kind? Do we also like to roll hearsay on our tongues? Do we get a malevolent sort of pleasure out of spreading the character-gripping story? Do we never think ill and talk evil of our neighbor? Until we can answer that question satisfactorily, we are not ourselves morally fitted to cast stones at the slinking home assassin of Gotham. It is not necessary to buy a ticket to New York in order to see what ravages on human happiness the assaults of slander commit. Not a few of us know some one in Dallas who has been whispered into a living hell. More than one of us has been guilty of loosening the poisoned arrow that imbeds its venom in the stricken soul. Is it not a grave reflection on all of us who are guilty that the human voice, endowed with the power of spreading sunshine, should so often be used to spread slime?—Dallas Times-Herald.

TROUBLES OF AN EDITOR

Flattery and long is the wedding notice which the editor printeth. The minister getteth ten bones. The groom standeth the editor off for a 12-month subscription. All flesh is grass and in time the wife is gathered into a silo. The minister getteth his bit. The editor printeth a death notice, two columns of obituary, three lodge resolutions, a cubit of poetry and a card of thanks. And in his hurry to get to press he forgetteth to read proof on the head and the darn thing cometh out. "Gone to Her Last Roasting Place," and all that are akin to the deceased jumpeth on the editor with exceeding great vigor. And they pulcheth out their ads and cancelled their subscriptions and they swingeth the hammer unto the third and fourth generation.—The Arkansas Thomas Cat.

A PUBLIC SERVICE

The part of the newspapers of Texas in the operation of Democratic government is not always appreciated by the people, but it is a great and important one may say essentially—function. Without the freely given service of the newspapers of this State only a handful of the people who must pass upon measures, issues and candidates would ever be able to know anything about the men and women whose names are on the ticket. The vastness of the State, the shortness of the campaigns, the restrictions of the corrupt practices acts, make it impossible for candidates to see or reach by mail more than a fraction of the voters. The political news service, freely given at great expense, of the newspapers is the greatest educational force in Texas politics.—Ft. Worth Record.

WHAT IS NEWS?

A citizen met the editor of a paper on the street one day. "Why don't you publish the news?" he asked, with a disapproving frown. "Young J. got into a brawl and beat up another boy and you didn't say a word about it in the paper. Such things should be given full publicity in order to suppress roidism," he resumed. A few weeks later his own son was rounded up in a juvenile scrape, and he hunted up the editor in a hurry. "Don't say anything in the paper about that little escapade of the boys," he pleaded. "It was only a lark, and boys will be boys, you know." It makes a difference whose boy is involved.—Exchange.

Nobody ever added up The value of a smile; We know how much a dollar's worth, And how much a mile; We know the distance to the sun, The size and weight of the earth, But no one here can tell us just How much a smile is worth.—Ex.

Loyalty to those whose dollars you take for your daily bread, is one of the greatest attributes of modern business and is the foundation upon which we may build that character of responsibility necessary to enable us to thrive and grow. Loyalty in politics is just as potential to the success of any man or party as loyalty in business is to the success of that enterprise under way. The man who will take one man's money and when that party is in a tight, fighting for his life as it were, stand idly by, hardly deserves the consideration of the victor.—Richardson Echo.

Things recorded in black and white can't be blotted out, so be careful what you write. Don't you know Jim Ferguson wishes he hadn't written that article entitled "The Cloven Foot of the Dallas Jew." Loyalty to your city costs nothing and will yield vast returns.

PRIMARY vs. CONVENTIONS

The primary election law was passed for the purpose of giving the people a chance to pick their candidate for state office instead of electing delegates to conventions for that purpose. Its intent was that the majority of the electorate should rule but in practice it doesn't work out worth a cent. The wishes of the majority do not prevail in a primary election even to the extent that they did under the convention system. Take the present situation for example. The two candidates in the run-off polled less than half of the total votes cast. Felix D. Robertson received 193,508 and Mrs. Ferguson 145,208. Now there are more than three hundred thousand—almost four hundred thousand voters in Texas who did not support either of these candidates, yet, they, the majority, have no choice but to support one of the other of them. If Robertson is elected 193,508 voters get their primary choice; if Mrs. Ferguson is elected 145,208 primary voters get their choice. Nothing more one-sided or inadequate was ever charged to the convention system. Personally, I favor a return to the convention system for the reason set forth above and for the further just and equitable reason that under the primary election law a man with business and political sense enough to be governor of the great state of Texas usually has too much sense to involve himself in the expense necessary to make the race. The law legalizes an expenditure of just twice what the office pays and this legal expense doesn't hardly start a campaign for governor.

Another reason why we prefer the convention system of nominating candidates is that a study of the results of the two systems convinces us that under the primary system we have never been able to secure the services of men for public office of as large calibre as we had under the convention system. We are ready to admit all of the defects surrounding the conventions of the past but a careful study of these defects and a comparison of the results obtained under both systems convinces us that the real interests of the people were better served and the real choice of the people was obtained more often than now.—Sam Miller in The Mineral Wells Index.

SELFISHNESS, OR—WHAT?

How easy it is to belittle the person who comes up for praise. Strange how otherwise fine, intelligent persons seem so determined that none shall shine as a genius or an exceptional.

You mention a certain one and say something about the success that person has made in the business world, and the reply comes, "Oh, yes, but his father left him the business," as if it did not take business acumen to keep what was left to him and increase it.

You say that this one is a great writer, and the answer is, "He never made a success of anything else," or, "his wife has been responsible for his success."

You praise the son or the daughter of your friend for being an artist or for showing the qualifications of an artist performer and you hear, "Yes, quite so, but otherwise that youngster is the laziest little beast, simply will not work."

And when you compliment your neighbor on having a child to be proud of, someone jumps in with the thing you never heard before—"The child was adopted."

What is the reason that you can not hear good of anyone with-out a desire to qualify the credit which is given.

It is a mean, despicable trick, this belittling others, and only goes to show that you are an egotist, yourself.—Exchange.

ART OF SLOGANIZING

The Rockdale Reporter has been for years "sloganizing" the merits of its town and its county thus "Regal Rockdale and Matchless Milam." It's merely a play on words, especially the first couplet. "Regal" connotes of royalty, of kings and lords and aristocrats. The Editor ought to couple some words to the name of his town that will connote honest democracy—if there is such a thing. The Reporter may be right in the other couplet, "Matchless Milam," but if one sees its roads in winter time he naturally wants to amend the slogan to "Matchlessly Muddy Milam."

Wherefore, having observed these observations on the science of sloganizing, let us go a little further. For the blessed city and area, of which this sanctum is the exact center for many miles around, let's see: "Triumphant Troup" and "Successful Smith," and "Cheerful Rockdale," and "Rustling Rusk"—Troup Banner. Why not come a little farther down to "Beckoning Brazos" with "Brisk Bryan," as the center for "Militant Millican," "Welcoming Wellborn," "Cultured College," "Creamy Kurten," "Edifying Edge" and "Toiling Tabor" and her neighboring counties of "Bounding Burleson," "Growing Grimes," "Radiant Robertson," and "Magic Madison."

YES THEY DID

No one ever made a mistake by being courteous.—Bryan Eagle. You are wrong, lady. The worst mistake we ever made in our long and variegated career was in trying to be courteous. We thought that courtesy to the woman in the car, who was taking her part in a row she was having with her husband and she turned the vials of her wrath on us and, Gosh! what a bawling out we did get. Yes, you can sometimes make a serious mistake in being courteous.—Mineral Wells Index.

Something worth remembering: Wilted flowers can be revived by placing in water containing one-quarter of a grain of aspirin.

HALF THE ROAD IS YOURS

An auto came rambling peacefully along. Yes, it was a "Lizzie." On the windshield we noticed a small card bearing the prominently, easily read type: "Howdy! Half the road is yours." That was O. K. for us—we who have seen so many automobiles whose drivers wanted to hog all the road. "Half the road is yours!" What a pretty sentiment that conveys—and what a fine phrase it is if lived up to—not only on the roads of travel, but on the roads of life. In the eternal strife and struggle that makes business life, most of the fellows who get far ahead are those who crowd the other fellow off the road—and, maybe, wreck his "machine" by forcing it over an embankment, and there are many embankments and treacherous places in the roads of life—just as there are in the roads of travel. If we are to enjoy life in its fullest measure there isn't a better slogan to go by than "Howdy! Half the road is yours." Don't try to hog the road—the other fellow has as much right to travel on it as you have and when you let him have half the road to pass your machine, you are showing courtesy and good manners. There won't be many accidents on the road if this slogan is kept to the fullest interpretation: "Howdy! Half the road is YOURS!"—Lorimer (Iowa) Journal.

WHY NOT WRITE "US" UP?

Said a well known business man to us the other day: "It would not hurt you occasionally to mention our business in your paper. It would help to fill up, you know." Yes, we might do it. We haven't the least idea on earth that it would hurt us, and it would, as he suggests, help to fill up. He might do all this, but at the same time, thank God we do not have to do it, unless we feel like it. It would not hurt him, either, to come around and say: "Give me a column or a half-column of space for an advertisement, and here is the money for it."—Willston (Fla.) Progress.

The Casual Caller wants to know if it is a crime for a Democrat to vote for a Republican after voting in the Democratic primaries. It is altogether the way you consider your oath. Every man and woman who participates in the primaries takes this pledge, "I am a Democrat and pledge myself to support the nominees of this primary." That should be a sufficient answer for every honest and law-abiding citizen.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Judge not, and ye shall not be judged; condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned; forgive, and ye shall be forgiven.—Luke 6:37.

Make not thyself the judge of any man.—Longfellow.

"Once to every man and nation Comes the moment to decide In the strife of truth with falsehood For the good or evil side. Some great cause, God's new Messiah Offering each the bloom or blight And the choice goes for ever 'Twixt that darkness and that light."

Good citizenship is made up of virtues. First loyalty to God, to family, country, and community. It consists of patriotism, of wise and unprejudiced voting. It inspires co-operation with one's fellows for the advancement of the best interests of city, State and nation.

John E. Cooke, past president of The Texas Press Association, and one of the most beloved members of the newspaper fraternity in Texas has been initiated into the present day society by slipping off over to San Antonio and undergoing an operation at one of the local hospitals. Mr. Cooke guides the destinies of the Rockdale Reporter at "Regal Rockdale" in "Matchless Milam," a paper that is a credit to both. We, with the many other friends of the Fourth Estate, hope for his speedy recovery.

We know Editor Will C. Edwards, of Denton, candidate for lieutenant governor in the August 23rd run-off Democratic primary, to be a big, honest, outstanding man; a man who is capable and big enough to represent all of the people if elected and not any particular faction. Edwards is worthy of the honor he seeks and a vote cast for him will never have to be apologized for. He will make Texas a first-class executive.

Saturday, August 23rd, is the run-off Democratic primary. Every man and woman should exercise their right of suffrage. The ballot is the beginning of good citizenship. Study the conditions, make your choice as to the candidates that will, as you think, serve the State of Texas best and then go to the polls and cast your ballot for them.

Just take a ride over Bryan, and in most every block you see some house being renovated and touched up with paint. My! but it looks fine. Such improvements are not only enjoyed by the occupants of the property, but they are enjoyed by every passer-by.

A REAL GENIUS

"There are some points about your writing that much resemble Shakespeare," said the editor. "Do you think so?" cried the delighted author. "Yes," the editor continued, "you employ almost the same punctuation marks."—London Tid Bits.

GRAND STAND TO BE ERECTED NEXT SPRING ON ALLEN ACADEMY FIELD

The three baseball games between the city and country team last week resulting in a victory of 2 to 1 for the city team, netted about $150 above expenses, and this fund will be used for the erection of a grandstand at Allen Field for the use of Allen Academy. The Sunday School League, and all other teams that use the diamond there. Work on the grandstand will not be begun until next spring. During the winter months, according to John Seelye Caldwell, who sponsored and backed the grandstand plan, it is planned to increase this fund in some manner as well as through voluntary individual contributions.

EAGLE CITY EDITOR AND FAMILY RETURN FROM TOUR TO GULF

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Cuykendall and children arrived home in Bryan late Sunday night, returning from a week's tour of the vicinities of San Antonio and Corpus Christi. They left on Saturday evening about a week ago, going to Austin by way of Pitts Bridge, Caldwell and Giddings, and the roads in fairly good shape over this shorter route, as far as Lincoln, and fine from there to Austin. The worst roads were those in Brazos county, between Bryan and Pitts' bridge. The first night was spent in the tourist camp at Austin, which was quite well-filled with touring parties. This is a large spacious camp, yet there was considerable difficulty in finding enough room to locate a place to sleep.

The next day was spent in travel to San Antonio. Sunday night found the party encamped at a little tourist camp about 27 miles out from San Antonio, on the Bandero road. Then they went to Anton Leibold's Upper Camp on Lake Medina, where a day was spent in the futile endeavor to catch fish when fish were not biting. It was quite an experience to go through the pastures, over the hills with their constant ups and downs, steep ones, long ones, and many of them, never knowing just what to expect nor knowing how much farther it was to the journey's end.

Camped At Kenedy.

Back to San Antonio, the Cuykendall party left on Tuesday afternoon for Corpus Christi, arriving there on Wednesday morning, after having spent the night in a little tourist camp at Kenedy. Corpus Christi camps on the beach looked too warm to them with not a tree in sight and they went over to Aransas Pass and finally reached Rockport. Though ye city editor was overburdened with patience and endowed with great endurance, his fishing experiment resulted in the catch of only two 7-pound sharks and a small sheep-head. He caught dozens of cat-fish—sea-cats—the kind of fish that is not eaten on the gulf for they are said to be the scavengers of the sea. Evidently he could not lose his fresh-water instincts for catching cat-fish, even when on the coast. A line that was guaranteed to hold 75 pounds broke under the strain of one shark—which ended one day's fishing.

The return home was punctuated with pleasant visits with Editor McLean of the Rockport Pilot, whose fishing pole and line figured in the above episodes, and Editress Mrs. Warrick of the Aransas Pass Weekly; also a visit to the office of the paper in Beeville, where a night was spent in the tourist camp.

Visited Friends at San Antonio.

At San Antonio the Cuykendalls were guests of Technical Sergeant and Mrs. Chas. H. Campbell where they spent a day and a half, visiting bathing resorts and other points of interest, including the old Spanish Missions, and Mr. Cuykendall renewing acquaintance with old friends in that city where he spent some time in the army and as an employee of the San Antonio Evening News.

They went prepared for making their own restaurant and hotel reservations anywhere it might be convenient along the road, erecting a tent when necessary or advisable, and cooking over the open camp fire, thoroughly enjoying a whole week in the out-of-doors, and returning to Bryan with renewed energy and the memories of a very pleasant trip.

S. D. PEARCE AND FAMILY RETURN FROM TWO WEEKS AT CENTER AND HOUSTON

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Pearce and children, Julia and Stephen, Jr., arrived home Saturday afternoon by car from a two weeks' vacation, spent with their people at Center, Texas, and visiting two of his brothers at Houston. They report a fine trip and an enjoyable visit as well as a pleasurable recreation in a fishing trip on a small creek near the Sabine River, just over the line in Louisiana. They caught a number of fine fish, they report. Roads were fine, they said, for the most part, all of the way with the pleasant weather except for the intense heat.

EUROPEAN FARMERS NOT RESPECTED LIKE THEY ARE IN STATES

Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of Texas A. & M. College, who recently returned from a three months' European tour delivered a series of lectures during farmers short course at College Station on observations made during the tour. These lectures, filled with timely information pertaining to the farming and live stock conditions of England, France, Belgium, Holland, Italy and Switzerland, are completed with a survey of the cotton crisis in the big Lancashire textile centers of England.

Need More Markets

Dr. Bizzell states that in his opinion America must seek a world market for its cotton on the theory that eventually Great Britain will grow some or much of the cotton it now annually imports from Texas and the South. When that time comes Texas cotton growers should have other markets developed to take the place of the British mills. Japan, says Dr. Bizzell, is one of the big potential cotton markets for the American cotton grower, importing more than 1,500,000 bales annually from India and a large quantity from Texas and the South.

Place of the Farmer

Dr. Bizzell found much in the European countries worthy of emulation. However, nowhere did he find the farmer held in higher esteem than in the United States, where farming is surrounded with fewer social and economic restrictions and where farmers have greater opportunity for self-expression.—From Dallas News.

ALLAN J. BELL OF LONDON, ENGLAND, STUDYING COTTON TRADE ON BRYAN MARKET

"Bryan is certainly a thriving and progressive town. I like it very much and though I have been here but since Thursday I feel perfectly at home, the hospitality of the people is so genuine," said Allan J. Bell of London, England, who is in Bryan for the cotton season learning the spot end of the cotton trade, associated with R. A. Harrison. Young Bell has been in Texas for the past two years, spending the last season in Waco. He has just returned from England, where he spent four months with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Bell.

BRYAN AND COLLEGE WILL OBSERVE NATIONAL DEFENSE TEST PROGRAM

Colonel C. C. Todd, Commandant of the A. & M. College Made Address Before Chamber of Commerce Today—Agreed to Back Movement—Committees Appointed for Enlistment Booths.

"Four years ago Congress enacted the National Defense Law," said Col. C. C. Todd, Commandant of the A. & M. College before the Chamber of Commerce meeting today. "It was based upon the theory of the smallest consistent standing army for police purposes, depending entirely upon its citizen soldiery for defense in time of national peril, the theory being that the regular army should be the first line of defense the national guard the second and the organized reserve the third. Each of these units to be approximately twice as large as its predecessor."

COLLEGE AND BRYAN EACH HAVE COMPANIES

"The organized reserve is entirely unorganized except upon paper. It is the purpose of the government to train only the officers for this contingent and they are being trained largely at colleges and universities such as the A. & M. College. Each locality is assigned a unit and in case of a national emergency the officers assigned to the unit would report and proceed to recruit the unit to war strength from among volunteers from the community. The unit assigned to Bryan is a Company of the 360th Infantry and the unit assigned to College Station is Headquarters of a Heavy Howitzer Regiment."

FURTHER ANNOUNCEMENTS

The test day is for the purpose of trying out the plan and ascertaining whether or not it would work. If the volunteer scheme as outlined above will not work, the nation will be better off after realizing the fact, so that other steps may be taken to insure the protection of the nation.

The Chamber of Commerce was asked to appoint a committee and to request other civic bodies of the community to appoint one member to act with the Chamber of Commerce in perfecting plans for a patriotic

SCATTERED PATCHES OF LAND PRODUCED CONSIDERABLE COTTON

"The waste lands made to bear fruit and become profitable." That is the work accomplished by C. L. McCoy of this city, who utilized stray patches of land in different parts of the city of Bryan, all within the city limits, about 20 acres in all, to grow cotton. This procedure not only kept the weeds down in those patches, but made them attractive in appearance and profitable in production. He has just taken one bale of cotton picked from these patches to the Farmers' Union warehouse and expects to gather more as the season progresses. The variety grown is the long staple, North Carolina, this being its first year in Texas and not yet acclimated. Some of the patches are within 200 yards of the Main Street of Bryan.

CITY MANAGER McADAMS IS DOING THINGS AT WACO

Guy Robinson, city electrician at Waco, accompanied by his brother, passed through Bryan Monday en route to Houston for a week's vacation. Mr. Robinson stopped over for a few minutes at the City Hall to bring greetings from E. E. McAdams, city manager of Waco. Mr. Robinson stated, said L. E. Warren, city electrician of Bryan, today, that McAdams was doing things at Waco—and things that no predecessor had ever dared to do. When cautioned to go slow an easy, it was his usual custom to do what he thought right and for the best interests of the city that employs him.

Law Henderson Pictures Result Of Governor's Race

"The purpose of this meeting is to organize a Miriam Ferguson Club for Brazos County," said Judge T. Maloney in opening the meeting at the court house last night when some four or five hundred people gathered at a Ferguson rally. The speaker of the evening was to have been Judge Blackman of Mexico but he failed to show up and the time was filled in with local talent. Judge Maloney speaking at length followed by F. L. Henderson, Lamar Bethea and J. G. Minkert. Each of the speakers took up most of the time denouncing the Ku Klux Klan, each making it plain they were for Mrs. Ferguson except F. L. Henderson. Henderson was not a scheduled speaker but was called out by the clamor of the crowd and had the following to say:

"The question for the Democrats of Texas to decide on Aug. 23rd is whether to take Mrs. Miriam Ferguson, along with her husband, or whether to take the Klan. In making this decision, you will have to admit, that Ferguson was impeached, that he bolted the party in 1920, and ran for President on his the American Party ticket. That he has caused more trouble in Texas politics than any other man and I believe the most dangerous man we have had to democracy, during the last ten years—yet he has a following, that put his wife in the run off primary. There is something about him we do not understand, and wonder how under all the circumstances he has been able to hold his 150,000 votes. I have never been for him, and in my feeble way have always tried to prevent his election, he has never stood for what I stand for. I have been a lifelong prohibitionist—and he has been the opposite. We cannot delude ourselves that he will not run the state, for his wife will look to him as she should."

"On the other hand the Klan, has induced Judge Felix Robertson, I know nothing of the merits and demerits of Judge Robertson, but from what I can hear he is an average man, I see no use to discuss his qualifications. If the Klan is to take over the democratic party, then all that do not belong to the Klan, will have no voice, if Zeke Marvin, Bill Mangler and John Mathis, are the leaders of the Klan, then we will have to bow to their wisdom and the selection they have made. If the Klan is a menace to the State, then if Robertson is elected, it will strengthen the Klan, it will continue to grow. If Ferguson is elected it will likely kill the Klan as a political power in Texas. Personally I have no fault to find with our local Klan, but I do want to see it out of politics. I would not join an anti-klan, nor do anything to stir up strife in this State or community. I believe that we should bury our hatchets, if we have any, and work together for the good of our City and County. I do not believe that we will ever get any where fighting straw men and windmills. I am opposed as a democrat to the dictations of any click or clan, or combination of them to run our politics. We should not fight each other over this matter, but should conclude what is the best interest of the State and if we conclude that the Klan should be killed then we should vote for Mrs. Ferguson, if on the other hand we should conclude that Ferguson should be retained for the best interest of the state, and that the Klan should live then vote for Robertson."

DEPUTY DISTRICT GOVERNOR OF LIONS WAS IN CITY TODAY

Lions had a great program at today's luncheon. Deputy District Governor Duggar of Waco visited the club today and in his address explained some of the great work that Lions clubs are doing. He stressed the fact that Lions clubs do not work for their own good, but in their unselfish work do much and lasting good for their communities, and for their fellowmen. He said that Lionism, only 8 years old, was the fastest growing civic organization in the United States, organized in 1917 with 20 clubs, and now have 825 clubs, with a membership of over 40,000. Mr. Duggar expressed himself as highly pleased with the Bryan club, and said it was much better than he expected.

Miss Lyndall Young gave two beautiful vocal selections, which were enjoyed very much by all present. The colored quartette from Shiloh Baptist church sang a number of songs which were very fine and were very much appreciated by the club.

Former Bryan Boy. Claude Lawson, an old Bryan boy, was with the club today and was welcomed by all present. He said he hoped some day he could be a member. J. Bryan Miller, the new city manager, and also a Lion, was present, but on account of the time being up did not get to talk to the club, but we will have him at every meeting, and will put him through next Tuesday.

Those present were: C. A. Searey, Theo. Thomsen, R. B. Ratcliffe, Tom G. Suber, Emmett Wallace, R. V. Armstrong, L. Lamar Jones, Jess Hensarling, J. Will Hall, C. R. Gardner, N. E. PRISONERS TO FARMS

A big truck load of prisoners passed through Bryan today en route from Fort Worth to the state farms, Blakeley and Ramsey farms, where they will spend their "vacations," each being permitted to do so by the unanimous consent of twelve good jury men.

BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPARTMENT

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. I. Beason

Texas Third in Melons.

The Market News Service, issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Agricultural Economics and Texas Department of Markets and Warehouses co-operating, give the following car lot shipments of watermelons for the season up to Saturday, August 16: Georgia, 15,548 car loads; Florida, 6,282 car loads; Texas, 5,589 car loads; South Carolina, 4,651 car loads; U. S. to date this season, 38,367.

Better Farms—Better People.

It is well that farm organizations devote themselves to making agriculture more profitable, but in so doing they should not neglect the opportunity to teach the true principles of American citizenship and our form of government and its meaning. The chief reason for increased profits of farming is to permit the building of better farm homes that better men and women may be raised in them. The Grange shows itself a well balanced farm organization because its program and teachings encompass all the activities which are necessary to make its members capable farmer and good American citizens.—Hoard's Dairyman.

Progress Demands Education.

Farm and Ranch quotes Dr. B. Youngblood, director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, as saying, among other things: "The only way for the farmer or the stockman to secure for himself his proper place in the world is by elimination of ignorance and prejudice, through the accumulation of knowledge, not of crops and livestock alone, but of every useful and cultural nature which tends to broaden his vision and enable him to think clearly and to speak and write his conclusions with force and ease."

Profits From Tomatoes.

It is reported that Alto, Cherokee county, Texas, has shipped more than 225 car loads of tomatoes this season, bringing to the farmers—and the business men, too—nearly a quarter of a million dollars. This, followed with even a fair cotton crop, ought to put business in good shape in that town and section.

Three New Farm Homes.

Some one said that between Allen Academy and Steep Hollow there are nine new homes going up. It should be observed that at least three of these are beyond the city limits and out in the country—on the farms, if you please.

Farms and Schools.

In his classification talk before the Bryan Rotary Club on last Wednesday, Hon. Law Henderson stated, by way of parenthesis, that almost daily some farmer or countryman comes to his office and declares his intention to leave the farm and go to the city for better school advantages, etc. Adding to this situation, Mr. Henderson declared that a recent trip through several counties where he may be seen abandoned farm houses, once fertile fields, now growing up in brush, and the general appearance of neglect along the countryside convinces him that there is a serious problem confronting the welfare of all the people, and he is of the opinion that Rotary may lend a helping hand in the solution of this great problem. Gentlemen, we have been telling that "the fields were white with harvest but the laborers were few." Just the other day a good man was telling to sell his farm and about having to sell his farm and move to Bryan in order to educate his only child. The farmer stated that his child had received a high school education, and while the proceeds of the once-cherished little farm had about disappeared he had no regrets coming. Certainly not. But the tragedy of the thing is that this good man was not helped to build within his reach a good school that would have remained on the farm where he could have prospered through the years as he labored for the upbuilding of his community and his country. This, of course, is only one of the many instances where great sacrifice is often made in an attempt to educate one's children, but at the expense of a better agriculture, and, perhaps, comfort in old age. The country cannot be educated today, nor agriculture made to prosper, without co-operation, and it is hoped that we Rotarians may get a real vision of the meaning of "Service" in its relation to the welfare of all the people.

New Barnett Bungalow.

Joe Barnett, Federal student, in placement training in the Steep Hollow community, is building on his farm a nice five-room home, which he expects to occupy in the near future. The home he is now living in belongs to his brother, J. D., who is to teach the Steep Hollow school next term.

Audiences of 250,000,000.

It is stated that more than 200 moving pictures have been made by the United States Department of Agriculture, "Behind the Breakfast Plate" having been shown all over the world to a combined audience of more than 250,000,000 people.

Cost of Farm Bureaus.

"The research department of the American Farm Bureau Federation is authority for the statement that the $30,000,000 annual saving to farmers in eleven states, as shown in the Federal Commission's report, would pay all costs of running the Farm Bureau with its 1,800 county farm bureaus, 45 state organizations, and its national unit for 10 years."—Hoard's Dairyman.

Must Like Our Work.

The many farm homes being built, repainted, or otherwise improved, is indicative of progress and bespeaks a better day for farming in Brazos county. When we fall in love with our business, whatever it may be, we begin to make it attractive. We will insist that the rural districts of Brazos county offer to the Bryan Building and Loan a wonderful field for investment, one that will not only help beautify and make comfortable farm homes, but also an investment that will be reflected in the volume of business in Bryan as a result of the stimulus given to a permanent agriculture. Something must be done on the outside of the city limits of Bryan if the point is to be kept on the many new homes being built in our rapidly growing city. Do you get the point?

Repair Mail Route Roads.

It is reported that some of the rural routes out of Bryan are in danger of being discontinued on account of the condition of the roads. It would be little less than a calamity for the patrons of these routes to lose this service, in seeing that the bad places are mended, or the roads improved so as to satisfy the postal authorities. It may be too late to wait for the country road crew that is already overloaded with road work throughout the county.

MILLER NEW CITY MANAGER TAKES OATH OFFICE AT LAST NITE MEETING

J. Bryan Miller Comes From Electra—Acting City Manager H. A. Burger Has Turned Over Affairs and New Incumbent Took Over Duties of City Management This Morning—Graduate A. & M.

"In the work of the office as city manager I expect to progress slowly, carefully and never impulsively, to be fair and impartial in dealing with all and will endeavor at all times to set no precedent in any matter that cannot be extended to all alike—" said City Manager J. Bryan Miller in his talk to the Commission at their regular meeting last night when he took the oath of office. "I am proud to be a part of the City of Bryan. It has long been my desire to be associated with the people here. Bryan is a wide-awake, progressive, attractive, well located town and has a warm-hearted, congenial citizenship, and my up most thought will be to serve the city through you to the very best interests of the city. I appreciate your attitude of co-operation and with your council and advice I feel sure of success. Your advice I will need and seek often."

GRADUATE OF A. & M.
City Manager Miller comes from Electra, where he has served that city as city manager for the past three years. He is a comparatively young man, married, a graduate of the A. & M. College in electrical engineering course in the class of 1918, and also taught Radio Mechanics at College in that year under Dean F. C. Bolton. He comes to Bryan with excellent recommendations from the Mayor of Electra and other business men and officials of that city and of other places. Prior to going to Electra, Mr. Miller was Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Leonard and also served that city as City Manager. He was for two years connected with the Elroy Engineering Company of Dallas, Texas. Mrs. Miller will come to Bryan just as soon as Mr. Miller can secure a house and can get their household effects moved.

Mayor Tyler Haswell presided at last night's meeting with Commissioners H. A. Burger, Wilson Bradley, E. J. Jenkins and L. L. McInnis present. City Secretary Guy P. Bittle and City Attorney F. L. Henderson were present also. Other business before the Commission was of a routine nature.

COULTER HOPPESS MAKES GOOD CAMP DIXIE IN WILEY, GA.

That Coulter Hoppess of Bryan, Texas, has made "good" during his stay at Camp Dixie, Georgia, this summer is evidenced in the following clipping from the Hillsboro Mirror of August 16th, giving the text of a letter from the camp management, received by the boy's father, W. F. Hoppess. Coulter Hoppess makes his home with his grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Coulter, in this city, and has a host of friends, who will be proud of the excellent record he has made while in camp.

"The following letter has been received by W. F. Hoppess, highly commending his son, Coulter Hoppess, for his conduct at Camp Dixie, Wiley, Georgia: 'Wiley, Ga., August 11, 1924. Mr. W. F. Hoppess, Box 234, Hillsboro, Texas. My Dear Mr. Hoppess: It is a genuine pleasure to me to be able to write you of the very fine conduct of Coulter in Camp Dixie for Boys. He has taken his place among the campers in a most satisfactory manner, and is a universal favorite. He has proven himself to be a perfect gentleman in every respect, and has maintained a high standard of deportment and conduct. It is a source of gratification to have a boy of his type as one of my Camp Dixie party, as such a boy is always an asset and is helpful in the maintaining and developing of our camp ideals. You have every reason to be proud of Coulter, and I am certain that you are. With my very kindest regards, I am, most sincerely yours, A. JAMESON, Camp Dixie for Boys, Wiley, Georgia.'

TABOR TIDBITS

(Special to Bryan Daily Eagle).
TABOR, Aug. 20.—Well, our vacation, picnics, barbecues, etc., are over and harvest time is here. However, it will not be a big job for there was not much of a crop made in our community on account of the drought. Most people are picking cotton, and the gin is running daily, and has quite a bit of cotton to gin.

We had church at Cottonwood Sunday for the first time since the revival. Bro. Brown has been away holding other revivals. We are glad to have him back, and he delivered a fine sermon Sunday. We had a good attendance at church, and also at B. Y. P. U. Sunday night.

FREE BARBECUE AT KOPPE BRIDGE ON BRAZOS A SUCCESS

It was conservatively estimated that a crowd of between three and four thousand people enjoyed the free barbecue at Koppe bridge on the Brazos river Friday and heard the political speaking. Judge J. T. Maloney made the opening speech for Mrs. Miriam Ferguson for Governor. Other speakers were: Judge J. T. Hillard of Caldwell; Mrs. R. R. Griesenlow of Burleson County and Judge C. F. Stevens of Houston. All speakers favored "Ma" Ferguson for governor. The barbecue dinner was under the direction of C. G. Walker. There was barbecued mutton, beef and pork in plenty for all with trimmings of bread, pickles and hot coffee. Dancing and swimming was enjoyed up to a late hour last night. This barbecue and political rally was made possible by the generosity of the Brazos Bottom plantation farmers of that community and a splendid hospitality was extended by them.

As they come to town they met several loaded wagons with cotton en route to the gin. This is early for cotton in this section of the state but continued dry weather has brought the crop to fruition much earlier than usual. Prospects are that in a very short time the harvesting of the cotton crop will be in full swing.

W. R. THOMAS HOME FROM NEW YORK ON BUYING TRIP FOR FAIR

After three weeks in New York City, where he went to market to purchase a fall and early winter line of goods, especially millinery and popular-price ready-to-wear for "The Fair", W. R. Thomas, the proprietor, is home. He also enjoyed a few days' pleasure trip in the province of Ontario, Canada, which country he said, is dry, except for a few cases in the desert. He reports market conditions as very little changed and styles changed only slightly. A few things on the market were breaking to a lower price, he stated. He mentioned that he bought as one of 40 buyers who had the cash and bought in quantity lots, pooling their purchases and dividing the lot afterwards. He said that cash was in demand and a premium was paid for it in exceptionally low rates and that the benefit of this close buying would be distributed among the patrons of "The Fair" when they made purchases here. He said that the goods were now arriving daily and being placed on the counters for sale as fast as they come in.

COTTON MARKETING ASSOCIATION GETS MANY NEW MEMBERS

J. Edgar Buchanan, district agent for the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Marketing Association, returning home from a three weeks' tour of Houston, Madison and Grimes counties, where he was instrumental in the securing of several new members to the organization, tells an interesting and amusing story in connection with his trip. He said that he had been holding a series of meetings at different places and showing slides in connection with a lecture he delivered on the cotton marketing line. As usual, at the close of his talk, he asked for questions to be asked on anything that was not clear or anything they wanted to know that had not been stated. After about a minute's silence, said Mr. Buchanan, a gentleman in the rear of the hall arose from his seat and in a solemn voice asked, "Say, do you know how the Governor's race is coming in Brazos county?"

Mr. Buchanan reports, more seriously that this district alone signed up over 400 members to the organization in the month past, and that the state total was 2,900 for the same period, making the total membership strength of this organization now at about 50,000.

BROUGHT HOME FROM MEXICO ON STRETCHER

BUT MRS. HERMAN IS NOW IN GOOD HEALTH, THANKS TO TANLAC.

A few years ago Mrs. M. E. Herman, 215 Hitchings St., San Antonio, Texas, "returned to the states from Monterey, Mexico," she says, "in such a low state of health that she had to be carried to her home on a stretcher."

As time went on and she still lingered in the throes of "Nerve exhaustion, stomach disorder and bodily weakness," she determined, "on the advice of her druggist," to try Tanlac, which she declares "brought back my health and strength after I had almost despaired of ever getting well."

The results of Tanlac in the case of Mrs. Herman, while indeed remarkable, are by no means unusual for Tanlac, as many hundred of people everywhere have testified to having taken the famous medicine with no less wonderful results.

"I returned from Mexico," said Mrs. Herman, "so thin and weak that I feared my life was going to be cut short. I could neither eat or sleep in a natural way and it seemed at times that heart palpitation and nerve exhaustion would take me away."

"The makers of Tanlac will always have my heartfelt thanks, for it is to Tanlac that I attribute my recovery and present good health. Tanlac is like a blessing from heaven to me, that is the way I think about it."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.
